

Master of Arts in Regional Studies: Latin America and Caribbean

Columbia University in the City of New York

The interdisciplinary MARSLAC program provides a social science-based approach to understanding the Latin America and Caribbean region, past and present.

MARSLAC students deepen their knowledge of the political, economic, social, cultural and historical factors shaping the region. The Program combines a highly interdisciplinary core curriculum, with ample flexibility to develop a custom-tailored program of study.

The Columbia Advantage:

- Graduates receive a degree from one of the best universities in the globe with world renowned faculty.
- Ample opportunities for financial support through fellowships, assistantships and other resources.
- New York City location provides unparalleled opportunities for networking and professional advancement.

The application

deadlines are:

- October 31 for Spring admissions
- February 1 for Fall admissions with financial assistance consideration
- April 2 for general admissions

PLEASE SCAN THE QR CODE FOR MORE INFORMATION ABOUT THE PROGRAM

COLUMBIA | I L A S

Institute of Latin American Studies